

FREGATE ISLAND PRIVATE SEYCHELLES

Fregate Island Private and the Seychelles are a destination like no other. In November we hosted a one-of-a-kind FAM trip to this exotic destination – and WOW, what an experience it was!

After arriving on the main island of Mahe in the Seychelles, the first step is transferring to the helicopter terminal at the other end of the runway. This is a very modern facility with a huge selection of new state-of-the-art helicopters. It is about a 20-minute flight over open ocean to reach Fregate Island Private. After a quick safety briefing, we don life vests for the trip. This flight is quite an experience itself and provides a great overview to get acquainted with the amazing Seychelles.

The approach into Fregate Island Private is really exciting, and your first glimpse of the island will make you giddy with excitement. Fregate island is the largest private island and the eastern most island in the Seychelles. The first inhabitants of the island in ancient times were pirates, its location providing a prime location. As we circled around the island and touched down in front of the old plantation house – our private assistants (PA's as they are colloquially known here) waited with our buggies, fresh towels, flowers and welcome drinks. I have to say this is one of the most incredible arrival experiences I have ever had, the PA's run out to the helicopter while the blades are spinning down and help you out with a warm greeting and refreshing welcome drink. Our group arrived and departed in two helicopters, one after another – making our transfers even more dramatic, leading one participant to say it was like an episode of "lifestyles of the rich and famous."
