

Cooking & Culinary Workshop

We invite you to discover the secrets of the famous Turkish cuisine with locals. You will be taken from your hotel to a local house. This authentic rural hut, 40-minute drive away from Bodrum, located in the middle of nature and a on the edge of the traditional village of Gokpinar. Turkish cuisine brings you rich flavors and the wonderful smells and colors of fresh foods to delight your senses, body and soul. Because Gokpinar is surrounded by scented pine woods, honey produced in this village is naturally dark and richly flavored, perfect for breakfast or as a snack with cay (delicious, traditional Turkish tea). Upon arrival you will have a short drive to a local organic food market. They will demonstrate how to pick fresh and ripe local ingredients. Later on, with the guidance of a local, you will learn to cook delicious Turkish meals with the ingredients you have chosen. Once you're done cooking, you will be served the dishes that you have made and enjoy eating dishes you've made with your own hands. Traditional Turkish cuisine goes back to thousands of years, and due to the unique position and climate of our country you will have the chance to experience unique, flavorful and varied dishes, vegetables and fruits during your stay. You will find a delightful, unforgettable experience waiting for you.
