

Oriental Food Culture of Centuries

Heritage of the Mesopotamia Plain, Mardin continues to reflect the colors of Southeastern boutique gastronomy like a twinkling jewellery. Living with the ancient gastro-oriental culture, Mardin holds one of the most unique identities of gastronomical science. Not only the architecture and the urban texture, but the cuisine of the city is also inspired and enriched by Silk Road and many cultures. Due to Mardin's location, the eastern and the western culinary art are combined in the most delicious way. Mardin's cuisine is not only famous in Turkey but it is also famous around the world. The soups which you can find and taste in the traditional restaurants of the city, will be an experience you will never forget. Ribs, sembusek's, stuffed meatballs and with other unique tastes, Mardin offers a varied menu with dozens of ingredients and cooking technique.

