Architecture & Design

Vedema is inspired by the 400-year-old winery that has been seamlessly integrated into the heart of the resort, incorporating the sensitively restored ancient cellars. Sunken pathways guide the way to the subterranean cave restaurant, the well-stocked wine cellar, the fully-equipped fitness center and the world-class Elios Spa.

A stylish, family-friendly resort, Vedema houses 74 spacious suites and villas, all with their own terraces or patios and many with private jacuzzis or pools. The complex of rooms has been traditionally handcrafted to reflect the warmth and sophistication befitting the island. Interiors have been thoughtfully styled by integrating the fresh, angular lines of Cycladic architecture with furnishings that offer sumptuous living and exclusive artwork.

Refined Dining Options

The Mediterranean climate and Santorini's rich volcanic soil are nourishing sources for local produce, which are used in preparing the refined dishes of Vedema's restaurants, under the vision of Executive Chef Rafael Tsakiris, imparting unique tastes and distinctive aromas.

Alati restaurant is located within a 400-year-old winery, the original canava that marked the beginning of Vedema Resort. Canava, a word unique to Santorini, describes the underground cave formation once used to produce and store wine. The entire cave has been kept as it was centuries ago, completed only by candles, safeguarding a unique and timeless patina.

The recipes embody a deep love for authenticity, forming the very backbone of the Alati philosophy. Heartwarming and delectable, the luscious "Bourdeto" fish soup or "Artichokes ala Polita" evoke a link to the country's tradition, embodied in the fresh, seasonal treasures found on the island, as well as the Aegean Sea.

Pergola sits poolside and provides the ideal setting to enjoy a leisurely breakfast, while the adjacent Pool Bar offers refreshing juices, freshly-brewed coffee and an exciting assortment of beverages.

Trataro, the newest epicurean addition, is an Italian origin restaurant bringing the venetian past of Santorini to the table through a fresh and delectable approach. Deriving from the latin "tractare", Trataro in Greek means to offer food and drinks to a guest. An al fresco dining experience, is set up around the crisp waters of Vedema's newer and highly imposing pool.

Classic Mediterranean comfort food is served here in the shape of beloved Italian recipes: seafood pasta, crudo with capers and sun-dried tomatoes, steamed mussels with finocchio, the Italian kitchen is incarnated through local produce, unique to the volcanic soil of Santorini.

With a name that means wine cellar in the local dialect, Canava Wine Bar is housed within the storage rooms of the centuries-old winery and provides a fascinating atmospheric backdrop for exploring the world of wine. Wine tasting sessions with the resort's in-house wine expert are available on a daily basis.

Annexing the brand new pool, the minimalistic Circe Bar features a wide array of beverages from wellness-conscious and low-proof cocktails to traditional Greek drinks and classic favorite.
